Douglas Fisher, from Parksville, B.C. on Vancouver Island is one of the rising stars in woodturning with unique artistry and innovative techniques. After a career that ranges from ironworker to drilling and blasting in underground gold mines to delivering sailboats to the Caribbean and across the Atlantic he became a full time professional artist in 1992 and since 1997 has focused on wood sculptures, primarily made using the lathe. Doug collaborated with a British Columbia First Nation artist for several years and now, since that artist's passing, continues to utilize First Nation inspired art for the visual designs in most of his pieces. His works make use of multicenter turning techniques while his unique finishing utilizes inks and stains applied in multiple layers to attain an "old wood" patina that is quite wonderful. In between the turning and finishing, he carves, textures and burns. More of His finished works can be seen at: www.douglasjfisher.com
